President's Address

Welcome to February.

At the January luncheon, we had some people ask about the new NURHA President (Rachel Child, a.k.a. me) and my background in HR.

I currently run my own micro-consulting firm called RachelMay Enterprises. I do small business HR consulting. In addition, I am an adjunct professor for Weber State University in the Goddard School of Business where I teach, as well as serve as the faculty advisor for the SHRM student club.

I am honored and excited to be serving as the President of the Northern Utah Human Resource Association in 2022.

Some of the greatest joys in my career have been to light the fire of Human Resources in the students and then connect them with the generous and passionate professionals in this organization.
