President's Address

We are winding down summer.

I hope you took the opportunity to vote for our treasurer role on the board this past month. We are grateful to our former Treasurer, Steven Maughan, for his efforts on the board in many roles. We are sad to see him move on, but are so grateful for Nick Allen who is willing to fill the role. This is a very real way for you to be certain that your membership dues are being put toward things that will shape the future of HR.

Speaking of shaping the future of HR, our annual golf tournament (that is entirely self-funded), where all profit goes toward scholarships for Weber State SHRM Students, is happening on August 10th. If you have the opportunity or know someone who would like to participate or who could benefit from Sponsorship, please share the information found at <https://nuhra.shrm.org/events/2022/08/annual-golf-tournament>.

Thank you again for your membership and your efforts in taking care of the people in your organization. We really have the opportunity to enhance the lives of those who we oversee - even when it feels like we're only there to stop people from doing things wrong.

Until next month!

Utah SHRM's Work Elevated Conference

Have you registered yet? If not, you missed out on early-bird pricing, but that's okay – the conference is still a value. The conference will be submitted to SHRM for 12 hours of recertification credit, including business credit for SPHR-credentialed attendees. You need to submit to HRCI manually. ☹️

This year, Utah SHRM's Work Elevated Conference, or WECon, will be held August 30-31, 2022 at Thanksgiving Point. The theme is To Boldly Go Where No HR Has Gone Before. Even if you don't plan to attend, if you are a Trekkie, you'll want to check out the registration site. It's adorable!

The keynotes include Sunnie Giles on Racial Innovation and Aric Bostick on The Power of Attachment – Informed Leadership. This year's conference includes the following:

- Seven breakout sessions over two days (certification credits for each session).
- Two tickets to an evening networking event with live music on August 30, 2022. (Day one of the conference).
- Two fantastic keynote speakers.
- Public Officials' Address
- Live music and networking time on day two.
- Time to visit with vendors.
- Two meals.

Four different tracks will allow WECon Attendees to customize their experience. You can change tracks throughout the day or stay on the track that best serves your needs.

- Legal
- Cultural
- Public Sector HR
- New Practitioners
